SHERMAN'S DEATH.

Scenes and Incidents at the Dying Bedside.

THE FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

His Body Will Not Lie in State Anywhere, but Will Be Taken to St. Louis and Buried Beside His Wife in Cavalry Cemetery.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The following official statement of the scenes at the deathbed of Gen. Sherman and the arrangements for the funeral was given out late Saturday afternoon. Death came slowly, but easily and without pain, to the veteran of so many bitter struggles. He passed away exactly at 1:50 o'clock. All the members of his immediate family were gathered at his bedside at the time, except his eldest son, Rev. Thomas E. Sherman, the Jesuit priest, who is now on his way to this country from abroad on the steamer Majestic.

Grouped about him in his last moments were Senator John Sherman, the general's brother; his younger son, P. T. Sherman; his daughters, Mrs. Fitch and Mrs. Thackara, and the two unmarried ones, Miss Rachael and Miss Lizzie Sherman, who lived with him. There were also present his niece, Mrs. Colgate and her son, Lieut. Fitch and Thackara, the general's sons-in-law, J. M. Barrett, his private secretary; Gen. Thomas Ewing, his brother-in-law and Dr. Alexander and Green, who have attended him constantly during his last illness. They had all been watching by his dying bedside since the early hours of the morning, for when they were first summoned from their beds, at 5:30 Saturday morning, it was believed that he might die at any moment.

The dying general had been unconscious for several hours, and his fluttering pulse was so feeble that on several occasions it was almost impossible to tell whether he was living or not. His long struggle had completely exhausted him, and it was only his remarkable vitality and will power that enabled him to cling to life so long after all hope had been given up. From time to time during the morning some of the family would leave the room, but only to be summoned back hastily when it was thought that the end was approaching.

It was in this manner that he clung to the thread of life that remained for nearly five hours after he became completely unconscious. Dr. Alexander watched beside the general incessantly, observing the slightest changes in his pulse and breathing. After 11 o'clock it was expected that every moment would bring the end, and telegrams were prepared to send to all his friends and the officers of the government at Washington as soon as dissolution occurred.

At the final moment there was no appreciable change in the appearance of the sufferer. He had been lying as one dead for several hours. Dr. Alexander, who had his hand on the general's breast, for he could not detect the heart beats in his pulse, was watching his face intently. He looked up quietly at just ten minutes to two and told the grief-stricken family that his patient had passed away.

No priest or clergyman was present, neither was any called.

The general did not suffer any pain for the last two days.

Gen. Ewing immediately left the room and went down to the door to announce the fact to the representatives of the newspapers, who had been watching the house anxiously for four days. He was visibly affected by the death of his old friend, and could say no more than to make the announcement that the general had passed away. A few minutes after this Secretary Barrett came to the telegraph office on Columbus avenue with a large batch of dispatches, which were addressed to President Harrison, each of the members of his cabinet and to relatives and friends of the family at Washington and elsewhere. They contained the simple announcement that Gen. Sherman had died at 1:50 p. m., and were most of them signed by Lieut. Thackara.

Late in the afternoon Gen. Ewing said that death ensued from the accumulation of mucus on the lungs. The general made an effort to throw it off, but had not the strength. He gave one convulsive gasp, and that was the end.

Immediately after his death Gens. Howard and Slocum, who were on Gen. Sherman's staff, were sent for. Some two weeks ago the general made known his wishes as to his burial. He particularly requested that his body should not lie in state anywhere. He also requested that the funeral be a strict military one. He said that he did not care particularly for any military observations here in New York, but that he did want a military funeral in St. Louis, which would be participated in by his old comrades in arms. He also requested that the funeral rites be not in conformity with any particular form of religion. He wanted a soldier's burial.

At 3 o'clock Undertaker Robert Wigger, a nephew of Bishop Wigger, and who buried Mrs. Sherman, arrived at the house and embalmed the general's body.

The funeral arrangements have been placed in the hands of Gen. Howard and Slocum. The funeral will be delayed until Thursday, so that Father Thomas Sherman, who sailed from Liverpool last Wednesday may be present.

The body will be taken via the Twenty-third street ferry to Jersey City. A special train on the Pennsylvania road will convey the body and all the members of the Sherman family to St. Louis, where Gen. Sherman will be buried beside his wife.

Telegrams of sympathy and condolence have been pouring in from all parts of the country. Some three thousand have already been received, including messages from the president, from public officials who had fought under the general and other friends.

William Tecumseh Sherman was born in Lancaster, O., Feb. 8, 1820, being the sixth and Senator John Sherman the eighth in a family of eleven children. Graduating from West Point in 1840, the sixth in a class of forty-two, his first military service was as a lieutenant of artillery in Florida. Later he was stationed at Fort Morgan, Ala., and Fort Moultrie, S. C., and during the Mexican war he was adjutant general to Gen. S. W. Kearny.

The breaking out of the civil war found Gen. Sherman in command of a military academy at Alexandria, La., a position he promptly resigned to accept a commission as colonel of the Thirtieth Infantry (regulars). In the first battle of Bull Run he commanded a brigade, and on October 17, 1861, he succeeded Gen. Robert Anderson in Kentucky, but of this command he was relieved within a month for the singular reason that he insisted that it would take 60,000 troops to drive the enemy out of Kentucky and 200,000 to end the war in that region. Such an estimate of the magnitude of the task was held to be evidence of lunacy at that stage of the war, but subsequent events fully vindicated Sherman's sanity.

He soon after appeared as a corps commander under Gen. Grant, and the brilliant campaigns which followed are too familiar for further reference. In the estimation of many good judges he ranks first among the Union commanders as a strategist, and he certainly was among the most brilliant and successful.

A terse and entertaining public speaker, a forcible writer and charming talker, he has been foremost at army reunions and public entertainments since the war closed. The death of no other public figure in America would leave so noticeable a vacancy or be so widely felt as an irreparable loss.

HIS BURIAL PLACE.

Great Preparations Being Made for the Funeral in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.—Immediately on receipt of the news of the death of Gen. Sherman, the following telegram was sent to P. T. Sherman, New York:

In compliance with the wish of Gen. Sherman, expressed in the following extract from his letter to Ransom post, of date Feb. 9, 1890: "That the post in its organized capacity, will deposit my poor body, in Cavalry alongside my faithful wife and idolized soldier boy," the post tenders its services to take charge of the funeral ceremonies here, and will send to New York an escort and guard of honor. Please wire wishes of family.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14, 1891. Ransom Post: The family was glad to accept offer of escort on arrival of remains of Gen. Sherman at St. Louis. Send a delegation of not to exceed four to meet cortege at Indianapolis. Gen. Howard and Gen. Slocum have, by request, provided for everything from here to St. Louis. Probably leave New York Thursday evening.

J. J. HOWARD. It is thought here that the funeral in this city will be held on Saturday next. The Merchants' Exchange executive committee have decided to close the exchange on that day. No definite arrangements can be made for the funeral until the committee here is advised from New York. Should the funeral occur on Sunday it is thought it will be the largest ever held in a western city.

Orders from the War Department.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—In general orders No. 16, issued Saturday afternoon, acting Secretary of War Grant announces the death of Gen. Sherman to the army. After reciting the president's message to congress and the executive order on the same subject, the order continues: "It is ordered that the war department be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days, and that all business be suspended thereon on the day of the funeral."

"On the day of the funeral the troops at every military post will be paraded and this order read to them, after which all labors for the day will cease. The National flag will be displayed at half staff from the time of the receipt of this order until the close of the funeral. On the day of the funeral a salute of seventeen guns will be fired at 8 o'clock a. m. The officers of the army will wear the usual badges of mourning, and the colors of the several regiments and battalions will be draped in mourning for a period of six months."

"The day and hour of the funeral will be communicated to department commanders by telegraph, and by them to their subordinate commanders. Other necessary orders will be issued hereafter relative to the appropriate funeral ceremonies."

It is my painful duty to announce to the country that Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman died this day at 1 o'clock and fifty minutes p. m. at his residence in the city of New York. The secretary of war will cause the highest military honors to be paid to the memory of this distinguished officer. The National flag will be floated at half-mast over all public buildings until after the burial, and the public business will be suspended in the executive departments at the city of Washington and in the city where the internment takes place on the day of the funeral, and in all places where public expression is given to the National sorrow, during such hours as will enable every officer and employee to participate therein with their fellow-citizens. BENJAMIN HARRISON, Executive Mansion, Washington, Feb. 14, 1891.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Probable Program of the Week's Proceedings.

MEASURES OF IMPORTANCE.

Several Bills Will Be Acted on in the Senate, While the House Will Be Occupied in Considering Appropriation Measures—Proceedings of Saturday's House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The senate will continue during the week on the program arranged by the Republican caucus, although there is a probability that the copyright bill, the pending measure, will be laid aside and the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill taken up. Senator Hale has given notice that he will ask the senate to take up the bill if the copyright bill is not speedily disposed of, and it is likely that he will make such a motion.

The diplomatic bill can be disposed of without any delay once it is before the senate, and the sundry civil bill, now in the hands of the appropriation committee, will be reported during the week and may be passed in a day or two thereafter. The order of business also includes the Indian depredations claims bill and the Nicaragua canal bill, and it is probable that some discussion will take place on these measures before the end of the week with a chance that one or both may be finally acted on.

The time of the house during the coming week will be spent in the consideration of the Indian, agriculture and post-office appropriation bills. As soon as these measures have been disposed of the subsidy shipping bill will be taken up and disposed of, but it is not at all likely that it will be reached this week.

Saturday's Congress Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The house Saturday afternoon business took up in committee of the whole the Indian appropriation bill and some progress was made. In general debate several speeches were made on the Indian problem, but without disposing of the bill, the house after adopting resolutions of regret at the death of Admiral Porter adjourned.

In the senate the credentials of Mr. Vilas as senator-elect from Wisconsin for the term commencing the 4th of March next were presented and filed. Consideration of the copyright bill was resumed, and continued until 3:30, when, after making considerable progress with the bill, it was laid aside, and the message of the president announcing the death of Gen. Sherman was then laid before the senate. The remainder of the day's session was occupied with eulogistic remarks by Senators Hawley, Morgan, Manderson, Evans and others. Resolutions of regret at the death both of Admiral Porter and Gen. Sherman, and providing for the appointment of committees to attend their funerals were adopted and the senate adjourned.

Washington in Mourning.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Officially Washington is in mourning. Never before in the history of the government have so many executive departments at one time been draped in mourning for deceased officials. At this time the following departments are draped: The war department for Gen. Sherman, the navy for Mr. Bancroft and Admiral Porter, the treasury for Mr. Windom, the interior for ex-Secretary A. H. H. Stuart, and the department of justice for Judge Devens. The flags of the capitol have been at half-mast for Representative Phelan, and but a short time has passed for several months when the flag over the White House and those over the public buildings generally, have not been lowered for the death of some prominent public man.

Secretary Proctor Recalled.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Secretary Proctor, who only yesterday left for Fort Monroe for his health, will return on Monday or Tuesday, being recalled by the deaths of Gen. Sherman and Admiral Porter.

WAS ONCE A CABINET OFFICER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Secretary Noble Saturday issued the following order relative to the death of ex-Secretary Stuart:

"It is my painful duty to announce the death of Alexander Hugh Holmes Stuart, of Staunton, Va., on the 13th inst., in his 84th year. Having served with distinction as a representative in the Virginia house of delegates, and afterwards as a member of congress, he, by appointment of President Fillmore, became secretary of the interior on Sept. 12, 1850, and served until March 3, 1853. By his eminent ability and industry he greatly advanced the organization and efficiency of this department."

"He had the support of President Grant in this earnest advocacy for the war against the Union, of the restoration of his state to its legitimate relations to the National government. His subsequent years were devoted to the cause of education, as rector of the University of Virginia, a member of the board of trustees of the George Peabody educational fund, and president of the Virginia Historical society."

"In respect for his memory the department will be draped in mourning for thirty days and will be closed at noon on the day of his funeral, Monday next. Until after the funeral the flag will be placed at half-mast."

The Body Was Not Dead.

DETROIT, Feb. 16.—While a coroner's jury was holding an inquest over the body of Mrs. Andrew Orzek Saturday morning, who was supposed to have died Friday night, the woman was discovered to be alive. No physician had been in attendance and the case was probably one of catalepsy or trance.

THE FIRE RECORD.

MAIL DESTROYED BY WATER.

Two Newsboys Badly Burned, One of Whom Has Since Died—A Fireman Overcome by Smoke—A Little Child Perishes in Her Parent's Residence. Other Fire Losses.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The general postoffice building caught fire at half-past 10 o'clock Saturday night. The fire was confined to the rear and lower portions of the building, and Superintendent Hall, with the aid of his staff of clerks succeeded in removing the bulk of the mail to another portion of the building remote from the fire. How the fire originated no one seems to know, but the general impression is that it originated from a defect in the electric lighting apparatus.

Most of the damages to the mails was by water, and the superintendent said it would take some time before it would be properly dried out for mailing. The mail matter which suffered the most was newspapers.

Fireman Maurice Stack, of Engine 27, was overcome by smoke. He was taken out by two comrades, and upon reaching fresh air recovered.

There were two newsboys taken out of the ventilating flume on Main street, where they had crawled to sleep. Their names were Guiseppe Nicholi, 13 years old, and John Gerverson, aged 17. The former was badly burned, and died yesterday at the hospital to which he was taken. The loss to the machinery, building and mail matter will not exceed $5,000. Superintendent Hall said work would go on as usual to-morrow.

HOSPITAL BURNED.

Narrow Escape of the Two Hundred and Fifty Inmates.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Fire broke out at 11:15 o'clock last night in the second story of the east wing of St. Mary's hospital, a large three-story building covering an entire block on West Main street, running from Genesee to Chili avenue. A bright light was seen burning by a man passing by shortly before the flames broke through the roof. The fire spread rapidly, and a general alarm was sent in. Owing to the great distance from the center of the city the fire department was slow in getting to the scene of the fire.

Fireman Frank Kane, foreman of hose No. 1, was on a ladder at the south side of the building when a cornice fell from the roof, killing him almost instantly.

There were over 250 inmates in the building, but owing to the partitions between the different wards the fire was unable to reach them. Loss about $30,000. During the excitement of rescuing the patients at St. Mary's hospital Libbie Nursinger jumped from the first floor of the building to the pavement, a distance of ten feet, and was badly bruised, but not dangerously. All the inmates were rescued.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

VAN WERT, O., Feb. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Lem. Stinley went away from home at Scott yesterday and left their two little children alone in their house and returned to find that their little home with all its contents had been destroyed by fire, and that their 3-year old daughter had been roasted to death in the flames.

When the fire broke out the little boy made a heroic effort to get his little baby sister to come out of the house with him and flee from the danger, but she crawled under the bed and was burned to death.

Small Blaze at Mansfield.

MANSFIELD, O., Feb. 16.—At 10:30 o'clock Saturday night fire started in the material room of the Barnett brass works, and destroyed furniture and machinery and damaged the building to the extent of $12,000.

RITTER'S DEFALCATION.

It is at Least $65,000 and May Reach $80,000.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 16.—Further examination into the books of the First National bank warrant the statement that Teller Ritter's defalcation is over $65,000 and may run as high as $80,000. It now appears that the extravagance of the manager of his music house was the main cause of Ritter's peculations. The stock carried by the house is said to equal those of large cities. No arrests have yet been made, although it is possible that a warrant may be issued from the Federal court. The bank officials have known of the shortage since Jan. 15, but owing to Mr. Ritter's illness it was kept quiet.

The bank, however, secured Detectives Hunt and Campbell, of St. Louis, to shadow Ritter and their presence in Ritter's neighborhood caused them to be looked upon with suspicion by the neighbors and were set down as housebreakers, and several days ago complaint was made to police headquarters about them. Two detectives sent to look them up were treated with contempt and cursed, whereupon both were arrested and taken to headquarters. The bank attorneys, however, soon released them. Ritter is completely broken down, and now claims he is the victim of a conspiracy. He has engaged counsel and will fight the case.

Discovered After Death.

BOERNE, Tex., Feb. 16.—About two months ago "Bayard, the hermit," died at this place. He had lived here for twenty years, and claimed to be a nephew of Thomas F. Bayard, Cleveland's secretary of state. In now transpires that he had a wife and a daughter.

A SLEEPING WONDER.

SEYMOUR, Ind., Feb. 16.—Several days ago an account was published of the wonderful thirty days' sleep last summer, in the month of June, of little Jesse Streitt, aged 13, who now resides with his parents, on Laurel street, this city. At the time it was thought he was entering another long period of slumber, but he recovered from his indisposition at that time and appeared to be as well as usual, and nothing unusual occurred with him until last Wednesday at 7 o'clock p. m.

Mrs. Charles Dahlenburg on that morning invited Jesse to come over and eat dinner with her the next day, as she was going to have roast chicken. In high glee the little boy ran in and told his mother that he was going to Mrs. Dahlenburg's to eat dinner, and asked for a new shirt. This was made for him, and after he had put it away with his other clothes, ready to put on next day, he told his parents he could not go to his neighbor's for he was sleepy and was going to sleep, and would sleep a long time, and that when he woke up he would be stranger than now.

His father talked to him and did everything in his power to keep him awake, but of no avail. He dropped asleep, and has since slumbered on with no signs of awakening. The New York medical expert, Dr. W. D. DeGarmo, wrote to Dr. N. N. Shipman, secretary of the Seymour board of health, and also of the Jackson County Medical society, asking for information in regard to the case, enclosing a clipping of the article. Dr. Shipman Thursday visited him twice, forenoon and afternoon, and found the little boy so sound asleep that all his efforts to awaken him failed. Other resident physicians have also called to see him.

Thursday night Justice A. T. Simmons called at the residence to see Jesse, and left there near 11 o'clock. He told the parents he could awaken him, and asked permission to try, which was granted. First he put a spoonful of cold water into his mouth, which, after rather choking over, the boy finally swallowed with an effort. Next a cloth wet with cold water was placed under the arms and in front of the hips to slightly shock the nerves. Then the sleeper's body was raised to a sitting posture, his eyelids opened in front of a light. None of these experiments had the slightest effect toward arousing him, and Mr. Simmons gave the matter up as a total failure. His heart moves regularly, but not strongly, and he breathes easily and softly.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES.

Gibson, the Whisky Trust Secretary, Ships for Parts Unknown.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 16.—Some more startling revelations in the conspiracy of George J. Gibson to blow up the Shufeldt distillery in Chicago has been made. It is now known that Gibson bought fifty pounds of dynamite from A. H. Barnswell some time ago, and the druggist from whom the architect obtained the ingredients of the deadly fluid found in his satchel in Chicago has been discovered. Gibson bought the different constituents separately and mixed them himself. The stuff was made of six parts of bi-sulphate of carbon and ninety-four parts of phosphorus. He purchased the chemicals three weeks ago.

There is no doubt that Gibson has left the city, as he has not been seen since Thursday, and the members of the trust no longer deny that he is gone. They say that he has got out of the way because he was afraid that he would have to face additional charges and that his bail would be largely increased. Detectives are here looking up the data in regard to the conspiracy, and it is probable they will also endeavor to find out which way Mr. Gibson has gone and who were backing him in his attempt to destroy the Shufeldt distillery.

Later reports are to the effect that Gibson left on the express early Friday morning for South America. When asked about the truth of the rumor, one of his friends said that Gibson would be out of the reach of officers in a few days. The friend didn't know whether Gibson had gone to Europe or South America, but declared he would never be seen in Peoria again. "He has plenty of money," said the friend, "and does not need to live in Peoria."

FUNERAL OF ADMIRAL PORTER.

It Will Take Place in Washington Tuesday Afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The funeral of Admiral Porter will take place from his residence in this city at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. There will be simple services at the house, the Rev. Dr. Douglas, of St. John's Episcopal church, officiating. The deceased will be buried with the highest naval honors. Commodore Remsey has charge of the funeral arrangements. Rear Admiral Kimberly will be in charge of the escort, which will number 3,000 marines, soldiers and militia.

The pallbearers which, however, are subject to change, will probably be as follows: Vice President Morton, Maj. Gen. Schofield, U. S. A.; Rear Admiral Stevens, Rear Admiral Alwy, Rear Admiral Rodgers, Rear Admiral Jonett, Rear Admiral Howell, Rear Admiral Crosby, Senator Hawley, Senator Manderson, Senator McPherson, Representative Bontelle and Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania.

The interment will be at Arlington, near the grave of Gen. Sheridan, in the spot selected by Admiral Porter himself some time ago.

Ten Men Injured in a Wreck.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Feb. 16.—A switching engine loaded with men in the yard of the Erie railroad at west Susquehanna collided last night with a caboose filled with a freight train crew. Ten men were injured. Conductor Carley and brakeman Martin Griffin, of Port Jervis, are dangerously injured. There were several narrow escapes from death.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1891.

REPRESENTATIVE DICKERSON, the fellow who succeeded Hon. John G. Carlisle, has introduced a bill to repeal the McKinley Tariff act. Suspend the rules and rush the measure through.

Looking at the list of saloon licenses granted at Lexington, one wonders whether they carry on any other business up there. With her hundred grog shops Lexington is well supplied with drinking places.

"The Protectionists are making a great ado over some alleged manufactures of American tin-plate," says the New York World. "If all of this article required in the United States could be made it would afford no reason for taxing the 60,000,000 consumers of it for benefit of a dozen manufacturers and a few hundred or thousand workmen."

The telegraph brings information that the glassware trust is a go, and it is announced that the main purpose of the combine is "to raise the price of staple tableware and control the output." That means, simply, that the millions who use glassware are to be robbed by the few individuals who are in the trust. And these thieves are protected in their nefarious business by the government.

The co-operation of the farmers is, of course, necessary to insure the success of the tobacco warehouse project. This co-operation ought to be insured from the start. The warehouse will give them an opportunity for disposing of their crop in a competitive market. All the buyers have signified their intention of attending the sales at this house, and where a half dozen are bidding on one crop, it is very likely to sell at the top price. If the grower sells at his barn, he rarely ever has more than two or three dealers bidding for it.

The plan on which the warehouse is to be operated was referred to Saturday. When the tobacco is delivered at the warehouse it will be weighed, then classified according to quality and color. Large houses are operated successfully on this plan at Lynchburg and other places in Virginia, and in North Carolina, and also down in Southern Kentucky.

Several farmers, who have been spoken to on the subject, have expressed their intention of patronizing the house. The date of the opening sale has not been fixed yet. The sales will be commenced, though, just as soon as enough tobacco is received to justify the firm in opening the house.

The farmers should give it their support.

LIBERAL FELLOWS.

J. M. t. Lon Does Up the Politicians of Adams County, Ohio.

The people of Maysville, or most of them, remember J. Matt Long. The BULLETIN had him reported dead a few years ago, but that rumor was corrected. He is now living at St. Louis, and doing well. He still has a warm place in his heart for Adams County, O. He lived there for awhile after leaving Maysville and was Sheriff of the county. When he writes of the people of that county, therefore, it is to be taken for granted he is thoroughly posted on the subject. As the Portsmouth Tribune observes, there is a vein of the humorous in his make-up, and this crops out in the appended notice, which will be highly enjoyed by those at all familiar with the reputation of Adams County, when it comes to tricks that are political. In a letter to a friend in West Union, he says:

Speaking of Pettit buying votes, I do not think he would do that. He may have given some poor fellow something to help "keep the wolf from the door." I have known him to give money for many benevolent purposes. I remember once myself, of giving a man $5,000 to rebuild his house that had been destroyed by fire. Charles Sutherland paid a man's house rent three months to keep him from being thrown out in the cold. Pollard gave a man a barrel of flour, and Captain Jim Crawford says that Pollard gave the children more candy than any man in the county. Blair loaned a man enough money to cancel a mortgage. Bob Ellison gave away a whole load of straw, and many other Republicans were just as liberal as Pettit. In fact, Adams County is known the whole State over for her liberality. John Hook would write pension claims for hundreds and never make any charges. Bill Mahaffey and Judge Tolle will endorse all pension claims and not even take a cent for it, while here, in St. Louis, I pay 50 cents every time my papers are looked at. Harvey Conner is another very liberal man. Why, he would give away in the course of the year, boots and shoes by the case, jeans pants by the hundred and striped neckties by the gross, until Mitt Boyles rebelled and said looks and eyes were good enough. I know men all over the county that would leave their business and work and spend days in helping to make the distribution set apart for the various townships. Bob Collins is the most liberal man in Winchester township. Since I left there, he thinks nothing of putting a roof on a man's house and making no charge. I will never go back on Adams County. She has more liberal people, considering her population, than any county in the State.

The Best Fertilizer.

The following statement was made by L. H. Wilcox before the Minnesota State Horticultural Society: "The fertilizer that every one engaged in small fruit culture should use, and that extensively, is a judicious mixture of brains and elbow grease. And it must be used in the field and manufactured on the spot. It is of little value without it is applied every day and every hour in the day, from 5 o'clock in the morning until 6 at night during the growing season; in this way it is as efficacious as a patent medicine; it will keep the ground loose and clean and destroy the insects and worms; in short, it will make a success when everything else will fail."

James Warder Insane.

The old friends of James Warder were shocked a few days ago by news of the terrible tragedy at Chattanooga, in which he killed his son-in-law and wounded his daughter.

A special from Chattanooga Saturday says doctors declare that Warder is undoubtedly insane. His health is ruined and he may die from the strain upon his nerves. He was admitted to jail Saturday in the sum of $10,000. He has been declared hopelessly insane by the attending physicians.

Here and There.

Judge Wall went to Cincinnati Saturday to spend a few days on business.

Miss Sue Grant has returned from a visit to her sister Mrs. Dr. Locke, of Newport.

Miss Mamie Scott, of Mayslick, and Miss Lula Lloyd, of Covington, returned home to-day after a week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. Jos. E. Perrie.

Railroad News.

The fronton Republican has "a straight tip" that the C. & O. will bridge the Ohio at Ashland at an early day.

The right of way for the extension of the Kentucky Freestone Railroad, up Kinny to Olive Hill, Carter County, has most all been secured. Ten miles of the road is finished.

Among the newer squashes the Sibley and the White Chestnut are reported by E. S. Goff, of the Western New York Horticulture Society, as valuable additions to the old list, and the former likely to prove a formidable rival to the Hubbard.

The Times-Democrat calls attention of Southern fruit-growers to the fact that the Kieffer pear succeeds better and produces larger crops of fruit in the Gulf States than it does in the North. In planting either the Kieffer or La Conte plenty of room should be allowed.

Frills of Fashion.

To carry one immense rose is the fashion nowadays. It must be held in the hand and have a yard or two of stem dangling.

Every kind of a gown has a narrow velvet ruff on it, and is worn with a narrow black sash. No more velvet, no more black, need be used on the rest of the dress.

THE MAMMOTH MINE DISASTER.

What the Coroner's Jury Report as the Result of Their Investigation.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 16.—The jury in the Mammoth mine explosion case, after a short deliberation Saturday afternoon, rendered the following verdict: "It is our opinion that the cause of the Mammoth mine explosion on January 27, 1891, was carburetted hydrogen gas accumulated in the lower led or dip of the Mammoth mine. No evidence exists to show the condition of the mine at that time, or that any gas had existed to any considerable amount prior to the explosion. We find all machinery about said mine in good condition and working order."

"While we find that the H. C. Frick Coke company has not been guilty of any neglect in providing comfort and care for their underground employees and miners, we do protest against the employment of fire bosses, mine bosses and pit bosses in any mine who are addicted to the use of liquor. We also believe that there should be an amendment to the mining laws of the state against the working of any mine under a water level with any flame or open light, but to compel the lighting of the same by electricity or safety lamps. We also recommend that no person be permitted to enter any mine now operated in the state or hereafter opened out except those whose names or number shall be kept in a book or registry at the entrance of the mines."

RAILROAD COLLISION.

Several Persons Injured and Two Engines Wrecked, Near Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 16.—There was a collision between the south bound passenger train on the Columbus, Hooking Valley and Toledo railroad and the engine of a north bound freight on the Scioto Valley railroad at the crossing, nine miles south of Columbus, last night. Both engines were badly wrecked, and a number of people severely injured. Engineer Charles Bothwell, of Portsmouth, was badly injured and was brought to Columbus.

Mrs. Robert McCune, of Columbus, was injured, and a little daughter of A. B. Cheney, of Canal Winchester, was thrown against the stove and badly burned.

Two young men named Johnson, who were stealing a ride were perhaps fatally injured.

Love Finds a Way.

Often a young man has written two letters at the same time and then placed them in the wrong envelopes, but the latest break of this kind was made by one of the prettiest girls in Louisville. She wrote a letter to her brother, who is at Knoxville, and at the same time a letter to a well known young newspaper man. The envelope directed to the latter contained a letter beginning "Dear Brother." At first the recipient of the epistle did not think this strange, as the young lady, although living in the city, is boarding at one of the female schools. After reading a few lines he saw it was not intended for him. Looking at the end he saw the letter was signed "Your Little Sister." This alarmed him and he began to think how he could get the girl out of the scrape.

Finally he lost his head and did the very thing he should not have done. He telegraphed the brother not to open the letter, that it was not intended for him. This had just the opposite effect, and the brother opened it, read it through and then forwarded it to his parents. The young lady is being sent to school to keep her away from this aspiring young journalist. The father paid him a call and a stormy scene was the result. The young lady's letters have to go through the hands of the teacher now. In spite of this she has managed to get a letter to him, and he has written an answer that has reached its destination, proving that "love laughs at locksmiths."—Louisville Commercial.

To Blacken Zinc.

A brilliant black coat upon zinc can be obtained by immersing the zinc objects in a solution of ten parts copper free sulphate of iron and six parts of ammoniac salts in fifteen parts of boiling water. After one or two minutes the zinc is taken out, and the powder like black precipitate of iron is removed by the use of a brush and water. Then it is again put into the boiling solution, and, taking it out, it is kept over a glowing charcoal fire until no more ammoniac vapors appear. This coating of iron may be polished with the brush, sticks firmly to the zinc and prevents its oxidation.—Jeweler's Weekly.

Burning Pine Cones.

I know a city home where there is a carefully hoarded store of pine cones, gathered during the summer's outing in the fragrant woods, from which the library grate is filled on high days and holidays, and the bright, crackling, spiky flame has inspired and developed many a beautiful thought and has given the world many helpful written words. A fire of pine knots is a luxury which might gladden the heart of a cynic and tempt any man to spend the evening at home in slippers ease.—Chicago News.

Murder in a Lumber Camp.

BROWNSTOWN, W. Va., Feb. 16.—Jan Samphon and two others went to a Bowman Lumber company camp and attempted to kill M. D. Donovan, manager of the company, by firing into a shanty occupied by him and others. The occupants were unarmed but barricaded the doors, and all escaped. Next day Samphon returned and renewed the attack, firing at Donovan, when Everett Wiley shot Samphon, killing him instantly.

Driven to Death by Want of Credit.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 16.—Darl Kritch a German, aged 43, and the proprietor of a machine shop in this city and one in Toledo, killed himself with a revolver. Kritch was hard pressed for money, and his failure to get credit for iron was the direct cause of the suicide, though he had been ill for some time. Kritch lived at 70 Giddings avenue,

The lamented Garfield in 1885 said: "We may reasonably expect that the expenditures for pensions will hereafter steadily decrease, unless our legislation should be unwarrantably extravagant."

The Pension bill recently passed by Congress appropriates $135,000,000, $70,000,000 more than was appropriated for this purpose in 1885. What Garfield feared, has come to pass. Legislation has become "unwarrantably extravagant."

The butter, which is not butter at all, is passed round in the basin and served from the wooden spoon with which it was mixed.

MINER'S ANNOUNCEMENT!

Selling at Cost.

In a great majority of cases this sign is a fraud. The intelligent public know very well that merchants are not doing business for fun. They are not in it to sell goods at cost. Loss puts nothing in a merchant's purse. He can't live on loss.

There Are Times,

however, when the question of profit is put aside. A merchant doesn't, of course, expect to live on loss! He much prefers that none should come. But a wise merchant knows that loss at times is inevitable on certain classes of goods if kept over another season. So he accepts the situation and shoulders his loss at once instead of postponing it and risking greater.

HARRISBURG, IND., August 28, 1890.
Dr. J. W. Bergen, Petersburg, Ind.—Dear Sir: I have been a sufferer from Asthma since 1871. I began the use of "Bergen's Asthma Cure" last June. The first week or two after I began using the "Cure" I felt slight symptoms of asthma at different times, but in the last six weeks I have not felt an asthmatic symptom. I now sleep soundly. After all these years of search for relief I can now say "Eureka!" Respectfully yours, REV. J. B. HADLOCK, Pastor C. P. Church.

THE WALKER WAREHOUSE.

VANOVER, Ky., January 24, 1891.

Mr. Geo. C. Walker, Cincinnati, O.—My Dear Friend: I am just in receipt of yours enclosing the I. N. Walker Company check for $1,355.43, for proceeds of sale of eleven hogheads of tobacco, for which accept my thanks. To say that I am delighted does not do the subject justice. It went so far beyond my fondest expectations that I am really dazed. Yet when I entrusted this tobacco to you, personally I felt sure you would see me out, which I am glad to say you have done to my utmost satisfaction, and for which I will always hold you in grateful remembrance.

I have six or seven hogheads which I will ship you as soon as I can get it ready—in probably ten days. I will use every effort in my power to get other parties to ship to the Walker.

With kind regards to your father, I am very truly your friend, (dt19) T. B. HARRISON.

CORPORATIONS.

The Con. Con. Says Officials Shall Not Accept Free Passes—Other Matters

The Constitutional convention, in Committee of the Whole, has been considering the subject of corporations the past few days.

A fight was made over sections six and seven of the chapter. These sections require that foreign companies and corporations of other States doing business in this State, shall have a place of business in the State and one or more agents upon which service of law can be had at any time. Both sections were adopted. These sections may be changed when they come before the convention, proper.

Section eight, which gives the same right to the State to condemn the property, franchises, etc., of corporations the same as property of private individuals for the public good, was adopted after a warm fight. It reads as follows: "The State, in exercise of the right of eminent domain, shall have and retain the same powers to take the property and franchises of incorporate companies, for public use, as it has and retains as to the property of individuals, and the exercise of the police powers of this State shall never be abridged or so construed as to permit corporations to conduct their business in such manner as to infringe the equal rights of individuals."

The next section was section 11, which prohibits, under heavy penalty, to be fixed by the Legislature, the granting of free passes, or reduced-rate tickets to any State, city, town or county officer, member of the Legislature, or Judge; any of these gentlemen who accept such to forfeit his office. "District" officer was added to the list, and an amendment allowing the officials mentioned the same privileges as the railroad granted the general public was adopted. This section was the subject of a lively discussion. Several members opposed it, but it was adopted all the same.

Section 12, aimed at pools, trusts and all such combinations was then adopted. It reads as follows: "All trusts, pools and other combinations, organized with intent, or which tend to depreciate below its real value any article or service, or to enhance the cost of any article or service above its real value, and all trusts, pools and other combinations and corporations detrimental to the interest and welfare of the State, are prohibited, and the General Assembly shall enact laws to prevent the formation or operation of the same by adequate penalties."

Section 13 as finally adopted, is as follows: "Any association or corporation, or the lessees or managers thereof, organized for the purpose, or any individual, shall have the right to construct and maintain lines of telegraph or telephone within this State, and to connect the same with other lines, and said companies shall receive and transmit each other's messages without unreasonable delay or discrimination, and all of such companies are declared to be common carriers and subject to legislative control. The General Assembly shall, by general laws of uniform operation, provide reasonable regulations to give full effect to this section. Provided, however, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to interfere with the right of cities and towns to manage and control their streets and alleys, and to designate the places at which and the manner in which any of the wires of such companies shall be erected or laid within the limits of such city or town."

After disposing of this section, the convention adjourned till this morning.

Number "Sixty-Seven."

"Will Clemens is one of the best engineers on the C. and O. Railroad," says the Cincinnati Enquirer. "He runs a passenger train on the division from Cincinnati to Huntington. Every other evening he handles the engine pulling the vestibule train from New York. For a long time his engine was 'Sixty-seven,' a large, cumbersome affair. He seemed for a time to have bad luck. On his run something would happen to his engine, and it became a standing joke that when Clemens and 'Sixty-seven' were at the head of the train the crew would not be able to keep any engagements they might have. Recently, however, he was given number 'Forty-six,' and he was as tickled over it as a child with a new toy. It is a good engine, and he is fairly in love with it, and talks about it as one would of a treasure. Clemens is no longer late with his train by any fault of his, and is as careful of his iron horse as a father of his child."

County Court Doings.

An inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of J. R. Rudy, deceased, and an allotment to the widow of same were filed and ordered recorded. The appraisement amounted to $14,348.54.

Godfrey Mayer took the required oath and was declared a citizen of this country.

An inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of Edward Moore was filed and ordered recorded. The appraisement footed up $282.50.

The fifty-four hogsheds of tobacco shipped a few days ago from the Cooper Warehouse went to the Walker Warehouse at Cincinnati. It was shipped by Mr. A. R. Burgess, solicitor for the Walker house.

THE Johnstown Democrat truthfully observes that "a shabby old coat may contain an editor, while the man wearing a high-toned plug hat and supporting a dude cane may be a delinquent subscriber."

CAPTAIN S. G. HILLIS, Senior Vice Commander, and T. E. Livezy, Junior Vice Commander, who are in direct line of election, and Colonel E. H. Hobson, of Greensburg, are candidates for Commander of the Kentucky G. A. R.

GEORGE SCHROEDER, Superintendent of the Keith-Schroeder Harness Co., Maysville, was in Olivet last week, and, as usual, received several orders. Mr. S. is popular with our business people, and his goods have never failed to give satisfaction.—Mt. Olivet Tribune.

At Otway, near Portsmouth, last week, Mrs. D. Younker, aged sixty, presented her husband, aged seventy-one, with twins. The occurrence is the talk of the little town. If the couple had been several years younger the arrival of the twins wouldn't have attracted much notice.

THE Enquirer says: "Miss Maggie Redmond, of Covington, entertained delightfully with a dancing party on Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, nee Miss Ella Cohen, and Miss Stella Redmond of Maysville, Ky. Dancing was indulged in until midnight, when a sumptuous supper was served by the hostess."

REV. JOHN SWENNEY, of Paris, preached at the Christian Church yesterday, delivering two very able and eloquent discourses. His subject at the morning service was "The Rock on Which the Church is Built." At night he talked on "The Simplicity of the Gospel." One person united with the Church and was baptised and received into the membership last night.

ONE man went to the penitentiary from Mason County the other day for 3 years for killing a darkey. Two others went 18 months each for stealing a dozen turkeys. We are not advised as to whether it was Thanksgiving when the fowls were taken nor the price at which they were selling but twice 18 make 36 and twelve turkeys equals one darkey.—Mt. Olivet Advance.

"THE WIFE" is an admirable comedy. From the first performance the excellence of the play was appreciated by both public and the critics. It has many merits and few defects. It departs from the conventional line, is worthy in its motive, charmingly presented, and with a stage setting that is marvelously beautiful. "The Wife" has seemingly attained the perfection of stage art.—N. Y. World.

The Boston is to-night's packet for Pomeroy, and the Keystone State will pass up for Pittsburg.

The Sherley, Stanley and Congo are this evening's packets for Cincinnati, and the Telegraph will pass down to-night.

THE Enquirer says: "While the Golden Rod was laid up a new wheel—the Stag-gard or split wheel—was built. It is different from any other ever on a boat here, as the center flange is ten inches in diameter greater than either of the others, and the center arms are all on one side of that flange. With changes in her valves and the new wheel, Captain George Vandegrift says she is fully two miles an hour faster than before, and that the new wheel sends her through the water without a tremor."

B. J. Mitchell, of Woodford County, raised a fraction over 16,000 pounds of tobacco on 10 acres. He sold for 9 cents all 'round.

Gray & Goodpaster, of Mt. Sterling, have bought 115,000 pounds of tobacco this season at prices ranging from 7 1/2 to 10 cents per pound.

Max. P. and Lee Liming, of near Newport, Adams County, O., raised last summer on four acres 6,876 pounds of tobacco, averaging 1,719 pounds to the acre. The crop was sold for 8 1/2 cents per pound.

THE Mt. Sterling Advocate says: "Dr. W. B. A. McNutt, of Minerva, Mason County, bought Roscoe Beauty, one of the finest young saddle stallions in the catalogue, privately, paying for him a fancy price. He is a perfect model, and will make a fine exhibit at the coming fairs."

Brown Brothers, dealers in crockery in Duluth and West Superior, have failed. Assets, $67,000; liabilities, $3,000.

At St. Cloud, Minn., the Searle-McClure block was destroyed; loss, $75,000. The block cost $49,000, and was insured for $15,000.

Jake Cohen, dry goods, Cleburne, Tex., has made an assignment, naming S. B. Allen as trustee. Liabilities, $2,233; assets, $20,000.

Benjamin P. Klossam, a brother-in-law of William H. Van derbilt, and formerly a banker in Wall street, died in New York Saturday, aged 71 years.

First Lieut. John S. Mason, Jr., son of Col. John S. Mason, retired, is dead, at Pine Ridge, S. Dak. He married a daughter of Gen. E. O. C. Ord.

The First National bank, of Ayres, Mass., which has been closed pending an examination of the affairs of absconding Cashier Spaulding, has resumed business.

Lewis Williams, a leading farmer, of Washington Township, Licking county, O., was stricken down with paralysis, and died in a short time. He was aged 40 years.

At Houston, Tex., Tom O'Connor, a Southern Pacific engineer, while intoxicated, slashed a fellow engineer named Richard Nave across the throat with a razor. Nave will die.

H. D. Clark, who opened an office at Wichita, Kan., as representative of the Michigan and Maine Lumber and Milling company, left town suddenly because the police were investigating.

After lingering in intense agony for two days, little Bennie Loury, who was run over by the cars, losing both legs, at Newark, O., died from his injuries Saturday. He was aged but 12 years.

C. A. Winans, a former newspaper man of Cincinnati, and whose wife resides at Seventh and Linn streets, died suddenly Saturday night at San Antonio, Tex., where he had just gone for his health.

The building occupied by A. P. Senevolds as a drug store at Warren, Minn., burned Saturday morning. His 7-year old daughter was burned to death. Mrs. Senevolds and the hired girl were badly burned.

Maud Davids, who was kidnaped from Gresham, Wis., six years ago, being then 7 years old, has been found in Chicago, having been adopted by a Mrs. Alice Campbell after her kidnapers had abandoned her. She attracted the lady's attention while begging.

John H. Inman, president of the Richmond Terminal railroad, says that there is no foundation, as far as he knows, for the rumors of the sale of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago road, and does not think there has been any negotiations looking to that end.

The burning of the Jordan House at Kingwood, W. Va., Tuesday night makes the fifth hotel fire in that town in the past few years. The loss at this last fire was over $3,000, partially insured. The guests lost most of their baggage, and narrowly escaped with their lives.

A number of lumber capitalists, the Standard company, and other prominent industries, have been indicted by the United States grand jury at Parkersburg, W. Va., for obstructing navigation. The action was taken under the provisions of an act of congress. The affair has caused a good deal of excitement.

Maj. C. L. Bedamon, one of the most widely known characters in Illinois, is dead at Nauvoo, at the age of 55. He was lieutenant colonel of the Thirty-second regiment Illinois infantry. His third wife, whom he married in 1848, was Mrs. Emma Smith, wife of the murdered Mormon prophet.

Judge Hanford, in the United States district court, at Tacoma, Wash., decided in favor of defendant in the case of the United States government against J. D. Campbell, indicted for selling liquor to the Puyallup Indians, on the ground the Puyallup Indians, under the law of 1877 granting to them lands in severalty, are citizens of the United States, and no one has any authority to question their right to buy whisky and drink it in their own houses.

Among the explanations of the case of the sudden downfall of Dr. Stoecker, the anti-Semite apostle and former court preacher, none is believed more generally than that which was published recently in a Berlin paper. The report says that at the time when there was considerable talk of a deficit in the emperor's private funds, Dr. Stoecker attempted to corroborate the statement and to spread it among his acquaintances. He was accustomed at the same time to criticize his majesty severely. The emperor heard of his actions and asked his resignation.

RARE SURGICAL OPERATION.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 16.—An unusual surgical operation, the first of the kind known in this state, was performed on Mrs. Emma Flora, and is known as the removal of a loose kidney. Professor A. J. Howe, of Cincinnati, used the knife, assisted by a dozen local physicians.

The organ became detached four years ago. The kidney was twice its normal size and was removed through an eight-inch split in the abdomen. For years the diseased organ had so affected her that she lay in a stupor and slept almost continuously. Mrs. Flora was lingering last night between life and death, but the physicians believe she will recover.

Captain Norton Probably Lost at Sea.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—All hope has now been given up for the safety of Capt. F. H. Norton, who sailed for Europe two months ago in his fifty-eight foot water-ballast miniature steamer. He was accompanied by his wife and sixteen-year-old niece. The captain was to have stopped at the Azores to replace the supply of coal, but that port was never reached, and nothing has been heard from the captain or his boat.

Dreadful Powder Explosion.

ZANESVILLE, O., Feb. 16.—By the explosion of a keg of powder in the blacksmith shop of Maynard Brothers at Canellville the building was destroyed and Charles Navatara and Horace English probably fatally burned.
